RE: Welcome to Field Training Program

Congratulations on your entry into the Field Training Program. For the next eighteen weeks your Field Training Officer (FTO) will help you develop the basic skills you have learned so far.

The purpose/goal of the FTO program is to prepare you to be a solo police officer for the City of Alameda. Your FTO takes great pride in what he or she provides for you. Reflect that pride by giving this program and every assignment you receive your fullest effort.

The information in this book is just a small part of what you must learn, but it is information that will help you while on the way to fulfilling the mission of the Alameda Police Department. That mission is to provide the highest quality of professional, proactive police services to this community.

Your development will not stop at the end of the FTO program. You have made a career choice by joining our organization. That career will be full of challenges and opportunities; opportunities to develop not just as a police officer, but also as a person. Be committed to your development. You will hit snags along the way; the FTO program is not easy. If you are persistent and dedicated you will succeed.

We believe you have the necessary qualities to become an Alameda Police Officer. Use the information in this book to its fullest. Good luck!
GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS FOR OFFICER TRAINEES

THE FTO PROGRAM

STANDARD EVALUATION GUIDELINES
Peruse them and know what is expected of an officer trainee.

EVALUATION PROCEDURE
Daily evaluation: FTO will critique major points at the end of the shift. The FTO will prepare a written evaluation called a Daily Observation Report (DOR) the next working day.

EVALUATION IMPORTANT POINTS
Trainee appearance, attitude, officer safety, self-initiated activity, common sense and good judgment.

FIELD TRAINING WEEKLY GOALS
The weekly goals will be given to the trainee at least by the first day of their workweek and are SELF STUDY.

FIELD TRAINING WEEKLY TEST
The test will be given to the trainee on the last workday of the week.

ONE-OFFICER CAR THEORY
The FTO car is always considered a one-officer unit.

FTO OFFICE
The FTO office is OFF LIMITS to trainees unless in the company of an FTO.

FTO BOOK
Do not remove or copy anything from the FTO book. Hand it only to an FTO / FTO Sgt / FTO Lt (or your Patrol Sgt who will write a weekly evaluation) and do not leave it lying around the PAB.

APD POLICIES, RULES AND REGULATIONS, TRAINING BULLETINS, ETC.
You have been given access to various APD policies, rules, regulations, training bulletins, etc. As you are given access and/or information, you are responsible for the proper application of that knowledge in your new career as a law enforcement officer.
APD LEXIPOL POLICY #205, RULES AND REGULATIONS
Read and understand. Do not hesitate to ask questions if you need clarification on any policies, rules and/or regulations.

OFF-DUTY (POLICE) ACTIVITY AND “GETTING INVOLVED”
While in the FTO program, use your common sense and judgment to AVOID "getting involved" in an off-duty incident.

OFF-DUTY WEAPONS
Temper the carrying of a firearm with your common sense and judgment. Know the procedure for carrying off-duty weapons and the Departments caliber restrictions and qualification procedure.

TRUTHFULNESS
Maintain your reliability. An officer trainee is a reliable informant to any other police officer, so maintain reliability through truthfulness at all times.

WORKING UNIFORM
DO NOT drive home or do personal business in your uniform.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

SECURITY OF APD POLICE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING (PAB)
Personally guided hallway tours of the PAB are okay. Any additional tours are to be on the approval of a supervisor.

FACILITIES

This means that two years from the date of appointment as a police officer trainee, you can be discharged without a hearing.

PRIVATE VEHICLES
Obtain a parking permit and know where to park your personal vehicle.

GRATUITIES
Take none! (See Lexipol Policy #205.)

OVER-TIME

RADIO CODES
Memorize them! If separated from your FTO, use your unit number and your badge number. Know the unit radio call signs as they apply to each watch and division.

FELLOW EMPLOYEE RELATIONSHIPS
The trainee is to introduce themselves to other Department personnel.

CHIEF'S MESSAGE

To All Employees:

The Alameda Police Department Policy Manual is intended as a tool to assist members of the Department, individually and collectively, as we work together to promote public safety and enhance quality of life through our delivery of professional police services in our community. Adherence to Department Policy is mandatory, and compliance enables the men and women of the Alameda Police Department to better achieve goals and objectives, promotes accountability, and strengthens trust within our community.

The Policy Manual is based on current, relevant and applicable Federal Law, State Law, Legal Precedent and the best practices within the Law Enforcement Profession. The Policy Manual also incorporates policies, rules, and regulations, and will be reviewed and updated on a regular basis.

As outlined in Policy 106.1 of this manual, all employees are responsible for familiarity and compliance with the policies contained herein. The Policy Manual is available to all employees via the Local Area Network (LAN), which includes the vehicle based Mobile Data System (MDS).

The Alameda Police Department Policy Manual acts as a compass to guide the Department as we move forward in our journey of collaborative problem solving with other stakeholders in creating a better, safer Alameda. At the same time, the Policy Manual is founded in the Alameda Police Department's rich and long established history of providing the very best in traditional, professional police service.

While it is understood that no policy, rule, or regulation can completely govern every facet of our complex and unique profession, employees must never forget that in the eyes of the people we serve, the actions of each member of the Alameda Police Department reflect our character, professionalism, and integrity.

Paul J. Rolleri

Chief of Police
LAW ENFORCEMENT CODE OF ETHICS

As a Law Enforcement Officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the Constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all; maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn, or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed in both my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the laws of the land and the regulations of my Department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities, or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or violence and never accepting gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of the police service. I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession...law enforcement.

FIELD TRAINING PROGRAM

INTRODUCTION

The Alameda Police Department recognized a need for a structured program to facilitate a police officer’s transition from the academic setting to the performance of general law enforcement patrol duties of the Police Department. In 1978, the Department developed a Field Training Program for new officers in order to assist them in learning the role and responsibilities of a solo patrol officer.

The Department initially appointed four senior officers as Field Training Officers. New recruits would ride with an FTO for a period of two weeks and then be appointed to the patrol division as a solo patrol officer. There was no orientation, standardized training plans or evaluation procedures. The criterion for passing or failing an officer in the training program was purely subjective on the part of the FTO.

In 1979, the Department recognizing the need for a standardized FTO program, started sending senior officers to a P.O.S.T. certified, 40-hour training seminar. These officers initiated the Department’s training program modeled pursuant to the FTO program compiled by Glenn F. Kaminsky and Dr. Michael D. Roberts. The Department’s current training program consists of two one-week orientation periods (in-house academy), and fourteen weeks of training and evaluation period, and a two-week observation, test and evaluation period. The final two weeks of the training program are conducted by the trainee’s primary FTO. This FTO will observe the actions of the trainee as a ride-along. Evaluations of the trainee’s performance are completed on a daily basis by the FTO, on a weekly basis by the FTO Sergeant or Patrol Sergeant and the End of Phase Reports completed by the FTO at the end of each four-week training period.

The Department has adopted a Mentoring Program, which extends beyond the Field Training Program until the new employee satisfactorily completes their probationary period. This program is designed to provide the probationary employee with fundamentally sound and ethical counseling that will enhance the employee’s ability to achieve success in their professional law enforcement career. It also allows the Department and employee the opportunity to address deficient areas in the employee’s work performance through supplemental training.
GOALS OF THE FIELD TRAINING PROGRAM

It is the responsibility of the FTO to thoroughly review the field training guide materials with the trainees and to demonstrate proper patrol procedures. The Field Training Program is designed to have a significant impact on a trainee in terms of imprinting positive attitudes, style, values and ethics, not only while in the training program, but throughout their career as an Alameda Police Officer.

The Field Training Program has been developed to provide a positive environment in which learning is maximized so the trainees will be able to perform to the best of their ability. The FTO’s approach to teaching the trainee will be fair, firm, friendly, and professional. Evaluations of the trainee will be sincere and given in a straightforward manner, emphasizing the positive, as well as the negative aspects of performance.

The FTO will guide the trainee through the program to ensure all materials, procedures and tactics are understood, and that the trainee will be able to complete their duties and responsibilities as a competent, proactive, solo patrol officer. The Field Training Program is designed to provide clear standards for rating and evaluations, which give all trainees every reasonable opportunity to succeed. The Field Training Program will enhance the professionalism, job skills, and ethical standards of all Alameda Police Officers. Anything less would be an injustice to the Department, the community it serves, and to the trainee.
Field Training Program Responsibility
And Chain of Command

The Alameda Police Department’s Field Training Program is administered and supervised by the Patrol Division. This includes the selection, training, and daily supervision of the FTOs, as well as the daily operation of the program. The responsibility for the Field Training Program is as follows:

FTO Lieutenant: Shall oversee the entire program to insure that it is being conducted in accordance with State mandates, and Departmental and Program needs and objectives.

FTO Sergeant: Shall ensure that all Patrol Sergeants and Field Training Officers coordinate their efforts and perform all required functions relating to the training and evaluations of newly hired officers. The FTO Sergeant shall be responsible for the proper scheduling of the In-House Academy portions of the program.

Personnel and Training Sergeant: Shall be responsible for scheduling appropriate training schools for those officers selected to be FTOs.

Field Training Officers: Shall conduct the actual training and evaluation process.

The Chain of Command for the Program is as follows:
TEACHING
An important role of the FTO is to guide a trainee through a comprehensive curriculum that requires the blending of knowledge, skills, and the good judgment of when, where, and how to apply them. FTOs shall be role models to follow and give encouragement and direction to the trainee to apply what has been taught. Once instruction has been given, the FTO should provide feedback for positive reinforcement on the trainee’s performance.

A Field Training Officer must commit to the philosophy of teaching. FTOs must accept the responsibilities for the success of the trainee, or lack of it, until they can identify any other uncontrollable factors that are the cause of the trainee’s performance. They must teach and reinforce the policies and procedures of the Department and set examples by virtue of their knowledge, experience and appearance. FTOs should attempt to set the highest standards in all areas of their performance, whether they are training a new officer or working in their assignment as an Alameda Police Officer.

Nothing has a greater impact on the newly hired police officer than the content and conduct of recruit training. It is critical that a recruit be positively oriented toward the Department and toward police work generally, particularly its service aspect as officers engage in extensive contact with all sorts of people.

ROLE MODEL
FTOs must be positive role models. This is accomplished by maintaining a professional demeanor and appearance, adhering to the rules and regulations, and having a positive attitude toward the Department, the training program, the job and the trainee. The FTO is a representative of the Department and the police profession. The FTO’s behavior must reflect those qualities intrinsic in the Peace Officer Code of Ethics. The FTO must accept and fulfill the responsibilities to teach, inspire and encourage trainees to perform to the best of their abilities. The FTO must also be able to deselect poor candidates.

FTOs will be firm but fair and will not allow prejudices to cloud judgment. Their attitude will be based on patience, dignity and compassion for the trainee. FTOs shall avoid sexism, racism and religious intolerance. The credibility of the FTO is assumed by the trainee and retained by the FTO’s conduct. The FTO must use sound judgment based on common sense, the law and the policies and procedures of the Department.

EVALUATING
FTOs are expected to be evaluators and the principle element of effective evaluation is objectivity. The principle goal of evaluation is documentation. Documentation is accomplished by the use of Daily Observation Reports, Supervisor’s Weekly Reports and End of Phase reports. Other methods of evaluation are through the use of worksheets, remedial training, evaluation sessions and verbal feedback. Field training staff meetings are held at the end of each phase to ensure standardization of the evaluations in the training program.

FTOs should not discuss their trainee’s progress with other personnel, except for those who have a need and a right to know. Supervisors involved in the evaluations should ensure positive and negative aspects of the trainee’s performance are discussed and documented.

COUNSELING
Police officers in general are problem solvers and an FTO is a problem solving resource for the trainee. This may include the trainee’s personal problems as well. FTOs must develop the skill to help trainees solve their own problems and the best way to accomplish this is through proper counseling. Discussing issues with the trainee and guiding them through these issues may allow the trainee to solve their own problems.

ROLE PLAYING
FTOs are expected to instruct, demonstrate or discuss each of the goals and performance objectives within the field training program curriculum. However, not all of these objectives will be met by daily field operations or through a written or verbal test. The program may include scenarios or role-plays to demonstrate and evaluate the performance of the trainee.

In general, role players will be other FTOs from the Department and the scenarios will be constructed in the most practical sense to help the trainee become familiar in responding to and resolving a particular problem. The FTO Sergeant and/or the patrol supervisor will always approve the role-playing. There will be no surprises. The trainee will always be told when a training exercise is a mock situation. It will be the FTO’s responsibility to ensure the scenarios are performed in the safest manner and that loaded firearms will NEVER be used in training scenarios. The training will be documented in the FTO’s Daily Observation Report as well as the FTO Sergeant’s Weekly Report.

RECOMMENDATION
FTOs are responsible for the initial recommendation of extension, termination or successful completion of the training program. All final decisions will be made through the proper levels of supervision, following the Department’s chain of command, but it is up to the FTO to make the initial recommendation. All recommendations will be based upon proper documentation of the trainee’s performance in the training program.
EXPECTATIONS OF THE TRAINEE

The responsibility of the trainee is to demonstrate their ability to perform as a solo patrol officer by the end of the training program. This is the standard by which the trainee will be measured throughout the training program. Their primary responsibility is to devote their full attention and efforts toward successfully completing the program. The FTOs will make every effort to provide the tools necessary for the trainee to succeed. Trainees must give their best effort each and every moment they are assigned to the program.

Trainees will complete all assignments in a prompt, timely manner. They will follow all policy and procedures as instructed and as outlined in all Department manuals. Should a trainee be given a specific order or task and they feel that it is improper, or if they feel that an evaluation is unfair, they shall discuss it with their respective FTO. If the concern or problem cannot be resolved, the trainee should discuss the situation with the FTO Sergeant or their immediate supervisor. If the situation is still not resolved the trainee will have the right to ask the FTO Sergeant to set up a meeting with the FTO Lieutenant. The FTO Sergeant shall notify the FTO Lieutenant and a meeting shall be scheduled.

Trainees are expected to make mistakes. They should ask questions when they arise and not wait for the FTO to cover an area of concern they might have. They should not be overly concerned with errors but should channel their efforts into recognizing and correcting them.

While off-duty, trainees should not respond to police calls or put themselves in an on-duty status unless the situation is life threatening. Trainees should discuss these types of situations with their FTO and follow Department Policy 386, Off-Duty Law Enforcement Actions, regarding off-duty situations.

Trainees will receive Daily Observation Reports, Supervisor Weekly Reports and the End of Phase Reports. The trainee should use these evaluations to help identify any areas requiring additional effort on their part. Trainees shall be receptive to constructive criticism given by FTOs. They may offer explanations for their actions; however, repeated rationalizations, excessive verbal contradictions, and hostility are not acceptable and are counter-productive to the training program.
SCALE VALUE APPLICATION

Perhaps the most difficult task facing the rater is the application of the numerical rating that represents the behavior being evaluated. The rater’s dilemma usually involves their rating philosophy versus another’s and the question of who is right. The following explanations should clarify the issue and ease the concern of the rater and the trainee.

The first principle of value application that must be accepted by all is that each of us has different perceptions on nearly everything in the life experience. While a standardization of rating is an acute necessity, an attempt to standardize perceptions is doomed to failure at the start. For example, FTO "A", based on a prior negative experience of his own, sees a trainee's exposure of his weapon to a suspect as worth a "1" rating (Officer Safety-Suspects/Suspicious Persons/Prisoners) while FTO "B" may see the same behavior as worth a "3". Should we (or the trainee) really be concerned? Our answer is "No!", as long as both officers see the performance as "Unacceptable" under the guideline quoted. A lack of standardization ensues when one FTO sees the performance as Unacceptable (Scale values 1, 2, or 3) and the other sees the same behavior as "Acceptable", scale values 4, 5, 6, or 7. In summary then, we have no difficulty accepting differences in officers' perceptions unless these perceptional differences vary between Unacceptable and Acceptable ratings for the same behavior.

The second principle that is important to grasp is the value assigned to performance wherein remedial efforts have been undertaken and the trainee is not responding to training. A trainee who performs at a less than acceptable level might be assigned 1, 2, or 3 for that task. The FTO is under an obligation to remediate the mistake and assess the trainee’s performance when next they have the opportunity to do so. If the FTO has retrained and the trainee continues to fail, a reduction in the scale value might seem contradictory if the trainee does no worse than before. The NRT (Not Responding to Training) section of the report form allows the FTO to report continued failure and the failure on the part of the trainee to improve, all the while maintaining the integrity of the rating first given.

An NRT is an indication, then, of a problem that has occurred in the past; that has been the object of appropriate remedial effort; and the remedial effort has not produced the desired result. A rating of NRT might be likened to the waving of "a red flag" in that the trainee is in danger of failing the Field Training and Evaluation Program unless their performance improves in that particular area.
Standard Evaluation Guidelines

The following “1 – 4 – 7” scale value definitions are to be used when rating a trainee's behavior in each of the performance categories. It is through the use of these guidelines that program standardization, continuity, and rating consistency is achieved.

   • Use of interference vehicle(s) to simulate actual roadway conditions.

8. The trainee will be made aware of the fact that routine and emergency patrol driving is one of the most critically serious and potentially dangerous functions of a law enforcement officer. There is a real and ever-present risk of injury or death to the law enforcement officer and members of the public when law enforcement officers drive in a manner unsafe for conditions, beyond their capabilities, or the capabilities of their patrol vehicles. In the years 2003 to 2010, more officers were injured or killed in traffic accidents than in assaults. In addition, severe criminal and/or civil sanctions can be imposed on the law enforcement officer and/or the organization as a result of unsafe vehicle operation. The trainee will be made aware of these facts and will relate to the FTO the importance of SAFE driving. The trainee will continually demonstrate SAFE driving practices in routine and emergency vehicle operations throughout the FTO program in preparation for continued SAFE driving practices throughout his or her law enforcement career.
Week Four

10. Tactical seatbelt removal (removing the seatbelt as the patrol vehicle slows, just prior to safely coming to a stop, so the officer can quickly exit the vehicle) will be discussed by the FTO. The trainee will demonstrate when to appropriately use a tactical removal of the seatbelt. The FTO will continually monitor seatbelt use and tactical removal of the seatbelt, to ensure that the trainee is habitually wearing the seatbelt while on patrol, and is only removing it during a safe and opportune time, given the situation at hand.

   • Dispersal can commence once the inner and outer perimeters have been established and control forces are in place to help support crowd movement, ingress, and egress

   Restoration of order
   • Medical aid
   • Detention, arrest, cite and release, transportation of arrestees
   • Criminal investigation
   • Authorized/designated law enforcement personnel interacting with the media

During this week the FTO is in plain clothes.

The trainee will perform the following goals during the eighteenth week of Field Training.

1. Know and be able to perform all solo beat officer duties and responsibilities in a safe and effective manner.

2. The trainee will spend a period of time in the COMCEN, observing and participating as appropriate, in Dispatch operations. This requirement can be met during Week 18 or Week 19, unless it was previously completed.

The FTO’s responsibilities during the eighteenth week of Field Training are:

1. The nineteenth week of the program should emphasize evaluation. Training therefore should be at a minimum.

2. The trainee should have the basic knowledge to perform as a solo beat officer and the FTO should give the trainee every opportunity to handle the assignments without FTO assistance.

3. The FTO should act as a “Ride-Along”. Any assistance that the trainee might need should come from another officer, preferably an FTO. The FTO must realize that the advice from another officer may not be accurate, or it may be advice that the FTO feels is unacceptable from a trainee standpoint. For this reason, the trainee should be encouraged to turn to an FTO or sergeant for assistance.

There will be no written test this week, although ongoing verbal testing should be expected from the FTO.

1. It is important that the FTO keep in mind that he/she is only to act as an observer, therefore any questions the trainee is not able to answer should be cleared up by a sergeant or another officer, preferably an FTO.
