MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dear Alameda Community,

Summer in Alameda is a season of possibility – and this year, it’s one for the history books. I’m proud to share our Summer Recreation Guide, packed with an extensive selection of programs designed to bring our community together, keep us active, and celebrate everything that makes Alameda special.

From youth camps and swim lessons to fitness classes, arts programs, and activities for older adults, our Recreation and Parks team has worked hard to offer something for every age, interest, and ability. Whether you’re trying a new class, returning to a favorite program, or simply enjoying our beautiful parks and facilities, we invite you to make recreation part of your summer story.

We are especially excited to highlight our country’s 250th anniversary Fourth of July Parade – a joyful tribute to our country’s rich history, community spirit, and bright future.

Thank you for continuing to support our programs and for being an essential part of our vibrant community. I look forward to seeing you out in our parks, at our facilities, and along the parade route this summer.

Here’s to a season of fun, connection, and celebration in Alameda.

Warm regards,

Justin Long

Recreation and Parks Director, City of Alameda

Explore the Victorian Era at its finest: Italianate, Queen Anne, and Colonial Revival-style homes all vie for our attention. Admire the Tilden family's "Wedding Cake House." Dennis Evanosky will lead this walk.

Then see where revelers once swam, danced, and enjoyed rides and attractions. Dennis Evanosky will lead this walk.

July 11 • Towata Park to Veteran's Court

Meet at Towata Park, 3315 Bridgeview Isle in the picnic area. We'll discuss the history of Towata Park, then walk along the beach on unpaved trail. We'll learn the City's plans for geomorphology, habitat assessment, beach revitalization, and how local coalitions plan to address flooding and contribute toward solutions. Lauren Eisele, Community Action for a Sustainable Alameda (CASA) will lead this walk.

July 25 • Old Town of Alameda Walk

Meet at the Fountain on High Street and Encinal across from Encinal Market, 3211 Encinal Ave. Let's go back to 1852 and learn how William Worthington Chipman and Gideon Aughinbaugh started the town. Aquatic camps are fun-filled day programs designed to provide participants with engaging water-based activities in a safe and supportive environment. Focused on enjoyment and recreation, these camps emphasize creativity and imaginative play. Each session features exciting themes, including drama-based activities and water games, ensuring a memorable experience for all campers. Camps this year will include a special fieldtrip! The trip will vary by camp so be sure to check the description of the camp when making your selection! These camps provide the perfect opportunity for campers to make new friends, build confidence, and enjoy summer days in and around the water! Our counselors will evaluate each camper's swimming ability to determine if a life jacket is required for their safety. Swim tests will be conducted at the start of every camp session. To ensure a safe and enjoyable experience for all, campers may occasionally be grouped based on their swimming skills. When selecting a camp, we kindly ask you to consider your child's swimming proficiency to help ensure the best fit for their abilities.
