5150 W&I Advisement:

The Alameda Police Officer below is sending you to a mental health facility for an examination by mental health professionals. The psychiatric detention is not a criminal arrest, but you may have separate criminal charges. You will be told your rights by the mental health staff. If you have been detained at your own residence and are able to communicate with the Officer, you may bring a few personal items with you, which the Officer will have to approve. You may make a phone call and leave a note to tell someone where you have been taken. Please inform the Officer if you need assistance turning off any appliance or water.
